WE HAVE THE EXPERTISE

At Southern Electric Coil, we manufacture traction coils for the railroad and mining industries supplying coils and winding supplies rated for Class-H Severe Duty. We design and engineer new coils to our customer's exact specifications and ship them quickly. Our coils are designed to fit precisely so as to minimize installation time and winding cost for our customers. Our coils also deliver maximized mileage or hours of operation. A two year warranty (one year for rail applications) is offered on our traction motor and generator kits.
